'The spirit of the Axe'

Axminster Heritage Centre is organising a photographic competition to mark the 150th anniversary of the publication in 1875 of the 4th edition of George Pulman's 'The Book of the Axe', with the objective of recording for posterity the catchment of the Axe and its tributaries in 2024/25.

The full geographical scope of 'the Axe' is shown here. It comprises all of the sections of the Axe itself, and those of its multiple tributaries (including in particular the Yarty and the Coly).

Entries comprising either individual photographs or portfolios taken over the 12 months to 11 May 2025 are invited. Images and themed portfolios (such as flooding, wildlife, old water mills or bridges) will be welcome, so long as they relate to the rivers and their settings as they are now.

For further information, including the competition rules and entry forms, either look at the axminsterheritage.org website, or scan the QR codes here:
